Sesqui-Centennial Chairman Is Fifth Generation Hugos

The chairman of the Bulloch County Sesqui-Centennial Exposition is Fred W. Hugos, fifth generation Hugos.

Fred W. Hugos, like his ancestors, was born in Bulloch, and except for the period he spent at Gordon Military Institute, has lived here ever since. His father and grandfather were each postmasters at the old Mill Bay post office which was the second established post office in the county.

Mr. Hugos served as tax collector from 1916 to 1920 and was chairman of the Board of Education for a number of years. Currently he is chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, which office he was elected to in 1934 and which he has held since that time.

Bulloch county history is Mr. Hugos' hobby. He lives it and breathes it, and the thousands of citizens and visitors who will attend the 150th anniversary celebration of the county will find him a most interesting conversationalist.

Rebecca Franklin Talks at Local Woman's Club

By Mrs. J. Brantley Johnson, Jr.
"Interesting people I have met and interviewed" was the theme of the talk made by Miss Ruth Rebecca Franklin, daughter of the late H. W. Franklin, and Mrs. Franklin, at the November meeting of the Statesboro Woman's Club here on Thursday, November 27.

Miss Franklin is a feature writer for the Atlanta Journal and told about trips she has made including one to Chicago with the Georgia delegation of 44 Club girls and the one to Hollywood on an assignment from the world premier of the "Song of the South" Walt Disney's picture, "Uncle Remus and his 'critters'."

She said she was in the Statesboro Club room and saw that more than half of the ladies present were her kinsfolk she felt right at home. She was presented by the Statesboro Club by Mrs. Alfred Dorman, chairman of the program committee. Miss Franklin was charming in a two and a half hour talk of Statesboro growth and progress. She was in the garden of Mrs. E. A. Smith.

The speaker challenged her listeners "to do something in life." She said that there were so many people who just lived and did nothing. She challenged us to take a part in the community life of Statesboro, the church and the social organizations. "Don't lead an empty life, but get busy in life and really live," she said.

Betty Jean Mikell and Shirley Lanier, of the Statesboro High School presented piano selection and Miss Carmen Cowart read a poem, "Georgia," written by Mrs. E. A. Smith.

A Verse For This Week

Generations are as the days of totemlike mankind; death and birth are the vespers and the matin bells that summon mankind to sleep and to rise refreshed for new advancement. What the father has made, the son can make and enjoy; but has also work of his own appointed him. Thus all things wax and wane; and, as the generations, opinions, opinions, opinions, ever completed, but ever completing...

Challenge of Tomorrow

Bulloch county next week is celebrating its 150th year of its history. This is right and proper. The Sequi-Centennial Exposition depict the ways and means by which our forefathers survived, lived, and progressed under hardships and difficulties which would appear to be unsurmountable. It is fitting that we should honor our ancestors. They deserve this homage. The question for us modern Bulloch Countians is what they, our departed ancestors would think of us?

Have we lived up to their traditions? Have we done with our abundant tools of living what they might have done? They wrought a living and a progressive wilderness. Have we done in our lifetime nearly so well as they did in their lifetime? In comparison with their accomplishments do we measure up to our history?

One hundred and fifty years ago our county was founded and we are honoring the strength, fortitude and vision of our forebears. But would our ancestors honor us, the present holders of their traditions? Have we lived up to their traditions? They wrought a garden out of a wilderness. We complain about not having hot water to shave with. What could they have done with the resources at our command. Bulloch county has progressed. But have we lived up to the promise of our people? Looking back we have much of which to be proud. Looking to the future what have we to be proud of? Would our ancestors been willing to let other people develop our

Thanksgiving

This is Thanksgiving day. Its observance should be, in the highest sense, religious. And it might be well to this end to review the feelings and emotions with which we approach it.

Much of our thankfulness may be purely selfish. There are some with whom things have gone well this year. The family circle has remained unbroken. No wasting sickness has come into the home. Prosperity has left its blessings. The table is laden with plenty. There is meat in the larder and grain in the storehouse. Because of these things they imagine they find in the bitter chill of adversity the true test of our gratitude. And that is true gratitude which, depending upon exterior conditions. It finds its basis in circumstances. It draws its inspiration from clear skies and smooth sailing and hence it is fitful and evanescent as the alternations of sun, light and shadow. If these conditions of personal prosperity are in God,

Curb Drunken Drivers

The rise in automobile accident insurance rates stresses one phase of the high cost of drunken driving even for abstainers. A nationwide survey by the American Automobile Men's Research Foundation brings out that "there is no question but that the past year has brought a tremendous increase in driving after drinking." Insurance companies are concerned over this increase and the losses it entails. The fact that they are forced to raise their rates is only one aspect of a problem which the

Good Books

The author and publisher of "The Sudden Guest" made this statement: "No book exists except in the eyes and mind of its readers. It is for them, then, to judge the success of these intentions. We believe the verdict will be overwhelming for 'success.' The story, plot, and characters are planned to move on three levels. The first level is the story itself, the experience of an egocentric woman in the hurricane of 1938 and 1941 in Rhode Island. On its second level, the novel attempts to demonstrate, through the story only, that the egocentric character creates within its own lifetime, its own hell. On its third level (which should appear only when the book has been read and closed) it is a parable of our time, for our time. This was a Book-of-the-Month selection. Edmund W. Starling's 'Starling of the White House (Simon and Schuster)' is the story of the man whose Secret Service detail guarded five presidents from Woodrow Wilson to Franklin Roosevelt. For those who liked this book, we wish to suggest Thank you, Mr. President: A White House Notebook by Merriman Smith (Harper). Reminiscences of a White House Correspondent through the administrations of Roosevelt and Truman. Interspersed with humorous sidelights on personalities and events. To settle any arguments that may arise as to whether George Baker's 'The New Sad Sack' is any funnier than 'The Sad Sack,' the publishers have gone on record with the flat statement that it is exactly as funny no more, no less. It is, in fact a continuation and a completion of the hilarious saga of the most beloved little guy to emerge from World War II. There are 148 pages of cartoons containing giggles and torso-shaking laughs. Other new books which you will find in the Library are "Who Rides A Tiger" by Doris Miles Disney (Crime Club); "Double Cross Trail" by E. E. Halloran (Macrae-Smith); "Their ancient Grudge" by Harry Harrison Kroll (Bobs Merrill); "Lady to Kill" by Lester Dent, (Crime Club); "Receive the Gale" by Frances C. Wickew (Appleton-Century). This with the flat statement that it is exactly as funny no more, no less. Brumitt (Garden City); "Mistress White (G. P. Putnam); The Life Sentence" by H. C. Bailey (Crime Club); "The Dark Wood" by Christine Weston (Scribner).

CHEVROLET LOWEST-PRICED LINE

The demand for farm products is expected to continue strong in 1947, but may be at lower levels during the last half of the year. Prices paid by farmers are expected to average higher next year. Georgia Extension Service crop specialists recommended that seed potatoes be selected at digging completion of the hillarious saga

Meet Our Police Force!

A lot of towns boast about the size of their police force. We're proud of the size of ours—six feet three, and weight two hundred twenty! Name of Patrick Ryan. Pat doesn't have a great deal to do—helping old ladies cross the street, seeing that kids get home at decent hours. And with Self-Regulation instead of Prohibition there's a mighty little trouble on our street at night. Ask Pat where he stands on Prohibition—and the lawlessness and gangsterism that he used to battle

By Using BERND'S STATE FORMULA BRAND MINERALS

Bernd's State Formula Brand Minerals are compounded especially for Georgia Livestock by a Georgia manufacturer. Only after extensive investigation as to what minerals have proven beneficial when added to the rations by Georgia livestock were Bernd's State Formula Brands compounded. By using these minerals the Georgia feeder gets a mineral mixture that contains only what the animal needs. He does not have to buy a mineral containing unnecessary ingredients. When a stock owner buys state formula brand minerals, he saves on cost of mineral and the animal will not eat more feed than is necessary trying to get minerals that are not in the feed. Therefore the saving is two fold: First, buying only minerals needed; second, using less feed to produce better animals and animal products.

Tobacco Plants Need Good Beds, Far Magent Advises This Week

Tobacco plants need good beds. County agent Byron Dyer declared this week advising Bulloch County tobacco growers to select good sites for their tobacco beds. Farmers who grow their own tobacco plants usually have the most successful crops. Tobacco beds with southern or southeastern exposure produce the earliest and best crops. The county agent pointed out. Blue mold is harder to control on partially shaded beds. Good, loamy, virgin soil that is

WHY MUST MINERALS BE USED IN ADDITION TO REGULAR FEED

In Georgia we are growing feed on low quality soils and soils that have been drained of minerals by crops in past years. Every year, more minerals are removed from the soil, making the feed grown on that soil low in quality or mineral deficient. This mineral must be furnished from some other source. We believe Bernd's Minerals are the most economical source.

MACHINERY PROTECTION

No farmer can afford to own an expensive piece of machinery and let it stand unprotected. One of the best ways to protect an investment in farm machinery is to protect the machine itself against the weather.

PRODUCTION RECORDS

Production records are necessary for better dairy herd management, only by weighing the milk from each cow and by knowing how much grain to feed can the farmer manage his herd for greatest profit.

It is a tribute to their strength and vision that this is so.

Livestock Grew Fast In Bulloch

Livestock, now the number one cash producer for Bulloch farmers, has been one of the fastest growing revenue raisers in the entire Bulloch farm picture.

As early as 1927 cooperative sales were being held, but the volume was negligible. Since that time, less than 20 years ago, livestock has grown into big business. Today Bulloch markets about 100,000 hogs a year and some 20,000 head of cattle. These sales bring to local producers millions of dollars of income a year that 20 years ago they just didn't have.

Orville McLemore and F. C. Parker, Sr., are two of the county's pioneer livestock dealers and still doing business in Statesboro where they started years ago when the handling of hogs and cattle for the market was considered an entirely minor enterprise. F. C. Parker, Jr., now associated with his father, and Joe and Julian Tillman have entered the livestock field to help make the market here the one of the best in the state.

HERE FOR J. H. HAGINS FUNERAL

Out-of-town visitors who were in Statesboro last week to attend the funeral of J. H. Hagins were Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Alderman, Mr. and Mrs. DeWitte Alderman, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Alderman, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Davis and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Spence, Mr. James Allen, Spence, Mrs. James Waters, Mr. and Mrs. O. SOIL INVESTMENTS

The significant increase in farm output during the war has taken a heavy toll of soil resources. Expenditures for lime and fertilizers to restore and increase the productive capacity of these soils will prove a sound investment.

Newest Type Farm Equipment to Show Up Old Time Implements

The old implements of agriculture will be in exhibition at the Bulloch county Sesqui-Centennial Exhibition December 4-6, but in contrast the latest scientific machinery will also be shown.

The farm implement companies have cooperated with officials of the exhibition and the most revolutionary farm machines will be shipped in for the Exposition.

Among the new types of machinery will be cotton pickers, flame cultivators, automatic hay balers, corn pickers which also shell and shuck, belt corn, new tractors, with push-button lifts and the newest mechanized devices, combines, peanut pickers and similar farm equipment.

These devices will contrast sharply with the old wooden implements that will also be on display.

A Salute to... The Doctors and Nurses of Bulloch

The Story of the Progress of Bulloch County would be incomplete without the assistance of the men and women of medicine who devote their lives to the welfare and health of their fellow citizens. Often unsung and unpraised are the labors of these guardians of our health who spend the hours of day and the hours of darkness keeping constant vigil over all of us.

The story of our doctors and nurses is the story of progress.

In the observance of the One Hundred and Fiftieth Anniversary of the founding of Bulloch County, we salute the doctors and nurses who have played such an important part in the progress of the county.

"Last Roundup" Before Thanksgiving

An abundant turkey crop for 1946 promises that the nation will observe Thanksgiving in the established tradition. But not every family will dine on a gobble chosen "on the hoof." Pretty Marys Pascoe, of Detroit, Mich., made sure of her selection by driving her new Chevrolet out to Shady Valley Farms, one of the largest turkey farms in the country, where Orville M. Felmer assisted in the selection.

Water systems should be insulated to prevent freezing. Cuts are one of the top grains for poultry.

Bulloch Industries Vie With Agriculture

Bulloch county's long history has been colored predominantly by its varied agriculture life, but in very recent years industry has been making remarkable strides. A check of the past two years shows that the new peanut shelling plant of the East Georgia Peanut Co. has been completed, a new central distillation plant for naval stores has been constructed; a new sausage manufacturing plant is in operation; and a new radio station has been erected and is about to begin broadcasting.

This industrial progress has been overshadowed by Bulloch's agricultural enterprises, but the suitability of the county for industrial life has been demonstrated during the past two years. These industries have provided jobs for individuals, and given farmers needed processing facilities for their products.

BULLOCH COUNTY SCHOOL SYSTEM OUTSTANDING IN STATE

School buses are an everyday phenomenon today, but they were rarities when the Bulloch county program of school consolidation got underway in the 1920's.

Figures released by County School Superintendent W. Earl McElveen reveal that some 2,000 young Bulloch countians ride buses to and from school each day. They ride in a total of 46 buses, the combined travel of which amounts to about 2,000 miles each day.

Originally school buses were driver-owned, but today the county owns all but three of the trucks that are used in transporting the children to and from school.

The county is now building a new garage for the maintenance of its fleet of school trucks.

Rock-a-bye Cradle Was Extensively Used Here Hundred Years Ago

The Bulloch county hospital is one of the county's finest possessions, but old time Bulloch countians lacked these modern medical facilities. None-the-less life went on.

One of the prize exhibits at the Bulloch County Sesqui-Centennial Exposition will be a baby's cradle of the type that was commonly used 100 years ago. This cradle was mounted on rockers, had wood slats and, in its day, was extensively used throughout the county.

Farm families can obtain plans for building homes and other buildings from their county agricultural and home demonstration agents.

An average pig raised under the swine sanitation system weighs about 28 pounds more when four months old than a pig raised in an old hog lot.

By using simple production records, Georgia dairy farmers can soon rid their herds of unprofitable "boarders."

If winter grazing plots were seeded early they can usually be grazed by early November.

150 Years Of Progress

On December 4, 5 and 6 Bulloch County celebrates its Sesqui-Centennial, "One Hundred-Fifty Years of Progress."

One Hundred and Fifty Years ago Bulloch County came into being. Building became the basis of its progress and development.

In 1932 we became a part of Statesboro and Bulloch—as a builder. Since that date we have been closer than most to the building of Statesboro and Bulloch. We have not only seen it build, grow, and develop, but we have been an instrument in its building, growing and developing.

As a builder we pay tribute to the people who have made this celebration of progress possible.

MISS LIGHTFOOT AND MR. BARNETT WED

Miss Margaret Lightfoot, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Lightfoot, became the bride of Mr. Arthur Pharr Barnett, son of Mrs. Arthur Pharr Barnett, Sr., of Washington, Ga., on Friday evening at eight o'clock at the First Baptist Church. The Rev. J. W. Holland, of Millen, Ga., performed the double ring ceremony, against a background of pines, southern smilax, palms, white carnations and white gladiolus. Miss Betty Lightfoot was her sister's maid-of-honor, wearing a pink marquisette dress. The fitted bodice, with a high neck line, had three quarter length sleeves. Her bouquet was of Pelargonium carnations.

The bridesmaids were Carleen Parrish, Camelia Barnett and Mary Hendrix whose dresses were a duplicate of the maid-of-honor. Their flowers were of Pelargonium carnations and Betty Rowse, Mary Frisoe and Vohamie Barnett whose dresses were of blue marquisette, with their flowers being pelargonium carnations.

Bill Martin, of Oglethorpe, Ga., was best man, and the groomsmen were Tom Forbes, Roy Kelley and Fred T. Lanier, of Statesboro; Jack Dillard, of Edgefield, S. C.; James Martin Callaway of Myrtle Beach, S. C.; and Bill Slaton of Washington, D. C.

Mrs. E. L. Barnes was at the organ and Jack Averitt sang "I Love Thee" and "Sweetest Story Ever Told."

John Lightfoot and Hal Averitt, lighted the candles. The flower girl was Patsy Rocker, cousin of the bride, whose dress was a copy of the bride's, and the ring bearer was Marcel Vasey of Washington, D. C., cousin of the bride.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of ivory duchess satin made with a fitted bodice, buttoned down the back with small satin buttons, featuring the sweetheart neck line and the long sleeves ended in points at the wrist. Her long veil extended over the train of her dress. She carried a bouquet of white carnations with a white orchid in the center.

The bride's mother wore a dress of black crepe and her flowers were white carnations. After the ceremony, a reception was held at the Woman's Club.

RECEPTION FOR LIGHTFOOT-BARNETT

On Friday evening, immediately after the ceremony, a reception was held at the Woman's Club for the Lightfoot-Barnett wedding. The club was beautifully decorated with white gladiolus and carnations with a green background.

At the door was Mrs. Fred T. Lanier and Mrs. Thad Morris introduced to the receiving line. Mrs. Edna Neville and Mrs. Charles Neville directed the guests to the gifts.

The bride's table was covered with a pink satin cloth with a border of deep, cream Irish lace, centered with the three-tiered wedding cake, with a carnation tied with white satin ribbon placed at each end of the table. The silver service from which Mrs. Ellis poured coffee and the silver punch bowl, with Mrs. Perry Kennedy presiding was very lovely.

Mrs. Dr. Elizabeth Fletcher kept the bride's book. Others assisting were Mrs. Barney Averitt, Mrs. C. H. Remington, Mrs. Nath Holman and Mrs. J. G. Fletcher.

Immediately after the reception Mr. and Mrs. Barnett left on their wedding trip for Florida. For traveling, the bride wore a gray garbardin suit with matching accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet for a corsage. Upon their return, they will make their home in Athens, where he is with the Agricultural Engineers at the University of Georgia until January 1, when they will go to Virginia to live.

LUNCHEON FOR MISS LIGHTFOOT FRIDAY

On Friday morning, Carleen Parrish, Betty Rowse and Mary Hendrix honored Miss Margaret Lightfoot with a luncheon at the Sewell House.

The house was lovely for the occasion, the color scheme of red and white being used.

On the table were red carnations, blending with the white narcissus and the lighted red candles. Mrs. Sewell served her guests a plate of creamed chicken, harvard cluster of glass nuts. Those enjoying the luncheon were, Margaret Lightfoot, Betty Lightfoot, Mary Hendrix, Carleen Parrish, Betty Rowse, Mary Frisoe of Millen, Camelia Barnett of Washington, S. C., and Vohamie Barnett of Montgomery, Ala.

After the luncheon, contest games were played.

For 31 Years FORD

has had a part in the progress and development of Statesboro and Bulloch County.

And so it is with a great deal of pride that we join the people of Statesboro and Bulloch County in celebrating the one hundred and fifty years of their growth.

During the part of the one hundred and fifty years that we have served in this community we have seen it grow until now it is one of the South's finest communities. It is a tribute to the citizens in the county that this is so.

When we think back and visualize the first Fords that came to Statesboro and we compare them with the modern 1946 Ford we are struck with the progress we have made.

And such progress can only be made by hard work, vision and cooperation.

On December 4, 5, and 6, we Salute Statesboro and Bulloch County and its people.

150 years of progress

On December 4, 5, and 6 the people of Statesboro and Bulloch County will gather at the celebration of the 150th Anniversary of the founding of Bulloch County. They will view the exhibits depicting the progress made by the county from the time of its founding to today, and take great pride in what they see.

The Statesboro Provision Company, founded in 1921, joins the people of this community in their pride in that growth and development.

One Hundred and Fifty Years—a long time when considered in relation to the span of man's life. One Hundred and Fifty Years of struggling to rise from sheer pioneer country to one of the most thriving and progressive communities in this section of the Southeast.

And now on December 4, 5 and 6 we salute the people of Statesboro and Bulloch County.

"TURNING OUR RAW MATERIALS INTO FINISHED GOODS AT HOME MEANS EXTRA DOLLARS..."

for You" — says Mr. Robert W. Groves, President Savannah Port Authority and Industrial Committee of Savannah, Inc.

"A sure way to put more dollars into the pockets of Southeastern people is to process more of our raw materials into finished products at home," says Mr. Groves.

"Wages paid out for the processing of field crops and woodland harvests exceed the value of these raw materials themselves. When these wages, as well as the original cost of the harvest, are turned into our communities there are many more busy dollars to pay calls on all kinds of business.

"Pulpwood is a good example. It has long been a source of extra income for farmers and woodland owners. Now that we have our own Southeastern plants for converting pine into paper, paperboard, bags and boxes, it is a source of extra income for the community."

Plants like Union Bag & Paper Corporation, which not only obtain their raw material at home, but also process it at home, place millions of new dollars in circulation and give the greatest number of people an opportunity to share in the better business it brings. Folks in the Southeast can go on cultivating increased harvests of pulpwood, knowing that their wood is creating business, employment, and wages for their neighbors, too.

ROBERT GILMOUR LETOURNEAU

MASS MEETING

ROBERT GILMOUR LETOURNEAU, founder and president of four great industrial plants in the United States, and one in Australia, is commonly known as one of "America's Leading Christian Laymen." He invents and manufactures over fifty per cent of all the world's earth-moving machinery now being used to revolutionize the building of highways, dams, airports, and army cantonments, and at the same time gives unstintingly of his time to the furtherance of the Gospel and has endowed the world's largest exclusively religious foundation with 99.7 per cent of his wealth. At present he devotes ninety per cent of his income to promote Christian pursuits.

Mr. Letourneau attributes to God his phenomenal rise from the obscurity of a "one-tool" garage mechanic to the operator of a five-factory corporation doing a yearly business of over twenty-million dollars, and employing about eight thousand people.

He travels approximately twenty thousand miles a month in the operation of his industrial plants, and at the same time filling engagements telling the amazing story of what God has done for him spiritually and materially. This is your opportunity to hear him. Robert Gilmour Letourneau is a dynamic speaker. He will give you something you will never forget. The experiences of this unique industrial genius and Christian philanthropist will thrill and challenge you. Don't miss him!

CITY OF STATESBORO ELECTION NOTICE

On Saturday, December 7, 1946 an election will be held for the election of a mayor and two councilmen for the ensuing term of two years. The law provides that any person desiring to qualify as candidate for these offices shall file notice with the Mayor, or their executive officer, of their intentions to be a candidate fifteen (15) days prior to such election. This November 12, 1946.

CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR

The results of the recent Bond Election shows that the citizens of Statesboro overwhelmingly approve our program for civic improvement. In order to carry out this mandate of our people I am offering for re-election to the office of Mayor or our City. It is my conviction that I am qualified to carry out the duties of the office of Mayor. I have supported every progressive program of our City. If elected, I promise to cooperate with the City Council in carrying out our Bond Program efficiently and with extreme caution so that the most will be received for your money and the greatest good accomplished WITHOUT the necessity for additional taxes. I intend to WORK at the job of Mayor and I pledge all the time

We're Proud of Statesboro and Bulloch County

For decades the name W. C. Akins and Son has meant service to the people of Statesboro and Bulloch County. During those years we have seen the city and county grow into one of the most progressive and prosperous sections of the South.

We are proud to have been one of the pioneer firms of Statesboro and have learned long ago to appreciate the fine people we are privileged to serve.

So now on the observance of the one hundred and fiftieth year of the founding of the county we join the people in celebrating the occasion. One hundred and fifty years of progress during which Statesboro and Bulloch County have come from a pioneer community to the finest community in the South.

And may the next one hundred and fifty years bring to this community a like period of progress.

Bulloch Tobacco Sales Grow In Two Decades

In less than 20 years Bulloch county has become the leading tobacco sales center in the entire state. The first tobacco warehouse was constructed in 1928 and sales that year totaled slightly more than 2,300,000 pounds which sold at an average price of 10.76 cents a pound.

1946 saw the Statesboro market leading the state in the number of pounds sold, 14,458,000 pounds that brought an average price of 41.10 cents. The price of tobacco on the Statesboro market reached an all-time low in 1931 when the average was 6.24 cents a pound. This year's price of 41.10 cents a pound was the highest in the history of the market.

(Timing promise that I shall do my best to see that the wishes of the majority are carried out and on both this promise and my record of a progressive and efficient administration I am asking your support.

ALFRED DORMAN.

King Cotton Is No Longer King

The transition of Bulloch county from a heavy cotton producer to diversification is graphically demonstrated by actual figures on cotton acreage during the past 13 years.

In 1933 Bulloch county farmers planted 60,000 acres of cotton and 60,000 acres of corn. During the current year farmers in this county planted a total of 12,000 acres of cotton and 100,000 acres of corn figures released by County Agent Byron Dyer, disclose.

Bulloch county farmers realize that other crops were more reliable economically than cotton, as witness the development of the county as a peanut producer. Peanut production in the lower part of Bulloch dates back to 1919 when farmers were seeking a crop to replace the old reliable Sea Island Cotton that the boll weevil had destroyed. They began growing peanuts about that time, but the acceptance of this crop was slow. By 1932 the county was only raising 600 acres of peanuts.

But from 1932 to the present Bulloch was gone in for peanuts in a big way. The 1946 acreage was 50,000 acres, placing this county among the leaders in the state in peanut production.

Electric irons are familiar articles in most Bulloch county households. But it wasn't always that way. An iron with a smoke stack will be on exhibit at the Bulloch County Sesqui-Centennial Exposition on December 4, 5, and 6. Back in those days fire was actually placed in the iron and the smoke stack was a necessary item to take the smoke away.

1920 A Salute to Progress

THE ALFRED DORMAN COMPANY

Is Proud to be a part of the development of one of the finest small Cities in the South. We are proud of the history of Bulloch County and its People.

We believe in Statesboro and Bulloch County. We believe that Bulloch is only at the beginning of a great new era of progress. The leaders of the community are joining hands in programs for the good of all our people. So it is with great pride that the Alfred Dorman Company is a part of Statesboro and Bulloch County and its 150 years of progress.

50-Year-Old Jar of Peaches to Be On Exhibit at Exposition

Modern canning plants are the order of the day now, but it was not always this way.

Time was when canning was primitive, and one of the oldest cans of food still preserved in Bulloch county will be on exhibit at the Bulloch County Sesqui-Centennial Exposition.

One particular jar of peaches to be on exhibit is 50 years old. This is a half-gallon glass jar that was "canned" 50 years ago.

Old Fashioned Dances To Find Place in 150th Anniversary Show

Old time Bulloch counties worked hard, but they also enjoyed life. One of these recreations was dancing. And as the years went by, modes in dancing changed and different styles of dancing became the vogue.

These dances will be re-enacted at the Bulloch County Sesqui-Centennial Exposition. Square dances, the Virginia Reel, the Minuet will be danced by modern Bulloch countians in the mode and manner of their grand-fathers and grand-mothers.

Mass Singing to be Feature of Bulloch Sesqui-Centennial

Musket-loading rifles have been outmoded in modern warfare, teams of oxen are rarely seen today and many other modes of old fashioned life have disappeared down the years. But one of the most wholesome types of entertainment has survived and that is mass singing.

And a mass singing will be a feature of the Bulloch County Sesqui-Centennial Exposition on December 4-6. Mr. Rufus Anderson, president of the Bulloch County Singing Association, is heading up this phase of the Exposition. He is issuing invitations to devotees of singing in the neighboring counties to be on hand for a big "sing" at the Exposition.

VETERANS ON FARM JOBS

The return of veterans to farms is not something that may happen in the future—a large part of it already has taken place. By mid-summer of 1946, the number of veterans returned to farm amount to roughly over 1,000,000. Of the veterans farming, 700,000 were farm operators or members of farm operators' families, and 300,000 hired workers. Veterans made up nine percent of all persons employed on the Nation's farms. The number of veterans working on farms totaled about two-thirds as many men as had left farm work for the armed services during the war.

Blue Lupine Finds Place on Many Bulloch County Farms

Blue lupine has found a place on many Bulloch county farms. It is a winter legume started off early with only two farmers planting a few in 1943 and then 500 pounds in 1944, moved to 5,000 pounds in 1945 and has already passed 350,000 pounds in 1946.

Indications are the 1946 plants will pass 400,000 pounds of lupine. Local farmers have found this is a good cover crop to follow peanuts, where harvested, they can save their planting seed for another year, and it makes a good early spring growth permitting the crop to be turned early enough to plant any crop behind.

It is a good money crop, is the seed are harvested and sold. Bruce Oliff planted his lupine in December last year and then made more than 1,000 pounds of seed per acre. Cecil Kennedy, Carlos Brunson, Dorris R. Cason, D. B. Franklin, and John W. Davis have all found that the seed could be harvested with a combine and that they are a profitable crop.

150 years of progress

On December 4, 5, and 6 Statesboro and Bulloch County will observe the 150th year of the founding of Bulloch County.

The Bowen Furniture Company is one of the younger businesses in this community in comparison to many of the pioneer firms, but we are proud of the part we have played in the growth and development of the city and county.

On this occasion we pay tribute to the people of the county who for 150 years have contributed to the progress of the community.

Our future is tied up in the future of the city and county and we pledge our best in making the future in keeping with the past.

Old Tooth Puller

So you have an aching tooth. And you think it tortures you when you sit in a big comfortable chair and the authorities in charge of the exhibition scheduled for tomorrow afternoon.

Exhibits are set up in the building at the Air Base depicting the celebration of Bulloch's Sesqui-Centennial Exposition now being held at the Statesboro Air Base.

There will be a number of relays of the tooth puller, the fastest possible time might be made. J. Marcus Stubbs, Savannah postmaster, and Arthur Turner, Statesboro farmer, are among the exhibitors.

A feature of the exhibit will be a model of the old sea island gins invented by the late L. L. Foss. This will be of particular interest to the exhibitors and will be delivered to the postmaster here.

The riders are expected to be dressed in costumes of the 1790's. A booth will be set up in the lobby of the Savannah post office where souvenir letters will be accepted for mailing to Statesboro.

Mr. Stubbs announced that the Savannah Chamber of Commerce is furnishing a young lady, Miss Teresa Furlong, as the attendant at the booth.

The cachet on the souvenir envelopes, which may be obtained at the Statesboro Post Office or at the office of Fred Odges in the county courthouse, depicts the vast difference in transportation in 1796 and today, showing a pony express rider on one side and the modern passenger airplane of today on the other.

One batch of uncancelled mail will be flown from Savannah here by private air carried with the time recorded. This will show the progress in transportation during the last 150 years. It is anticipated that the mail flown from Savannah will reach here within less than 30 minutes, where as the pony express will take most of the day.

Jimmie Redding, of Statesboro will pilot the private plane which will bring the air mail.

A story appearing in the Savannah Morning News Wednesday morning indicates that air mail from Statesboro is possible in the not too distant future. It stated that an application for feeder service from Macon to Savannah was filed several months ago with the Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington and is being considered. If the application is approved, it is believed that the Southern Airways of Atlanta, is favorably acted upon, Bulloch people will be having air mail service.

The Statesboro Blue Devils were swept out of the First District championship running last Friday night when Sylvania defeated them 21 to 7 in the last game of the 1946 season.
